ACADEMIC VISIT

COLUMBIA ICEFIELD & LAKE LOUISE

The Columbia Icefield is the largest ice field in North America's Rocky Mountains. Visiting the Columbia Icefield is like peering into the heart of the planet. Here, you can fully experience the powerful force of the Columbia Icefield and learn about the fascinating history of this ever-evolving, ancient area.

Due to global warming, The Columbia Icefield is disappearing.

At the current rate the ice is melting, the entire Columbia Icefield will be gone by the end of this century.

Lake Louise is a hamlet in Banff National Park in the Canadian Rockies, known for its turquoise, glacier-fed lake ringed by high peaks and overlooked by a stately chateau.

We are looking forward to exploring these beautiful attractions with you!
